Re: Robert Zimmerman v. UBS Ag, et al, No, 17-CV-4503-JMF

Dear Judge Furman:

This letter is a request for more time and pages with which to Oppose UB S and EY's motions to dismiss, each 25 pages long and replete with single-spaced small print footnotes, which are really just a means to circumvent the Court's 25-page Rule.

UBS is the greatest offender by far with approximately 13 inches of purported small print footnotes scattered over 10 of their 25 pages, and very hard to read.

I'm respectfully requesting an additional 25 pages and 21 days with which to submit the Court Ordered single opposition motion to cover the two motions to dismiss now filed.

Bloomberg News Analytics, which I bumped into accidentally, reports that approximately 89% of the cases, most of which I assume are represented by attorneys, do not survive a motion to dismiss. Does this mean that this Pro Se Plaintiff has zero chance of surviving?

Most respectfully submitted by,

Robert Zimmerman, 329 Sandpiper Lane, Hampstead, NC 28443
